Issue IV: Innovations in Financial Service Delivery Mechanisms

Globally, the microfinance sector is standing at a juncture where innovative mechanisms, to take financial services delivery to the last mile, are emerging regularly. The issue reveals the tip of the "innovations" iceberg and highlights examples of mechanisms that have made a difference and challenged established norms.

Issue III: Tapping Capital Markets

Investors, banks, and other financial actors play a crucial role in facilitating the growth of the microfinance industry and some deals have attracted attention to the capital markets. This issue seeks to discuss investors' perspectives, various valuation methodologies, and recommendations for MFIs and investors.

Issue II: Urban Microfinance

The issue spanned the jigsaw that makes up the urban microfinance landscape including various urban environments, investor perspectives, key drivers of growth, and products and services tailored to the realities of urban areas.
